

6516207842.txt

satellite radio provides the service we expect when we turn on the radio. If traditional broadcasters want listeners back they need to give them what they want; more music fewer commercials and less nonsense talk.